VOLUME 54.

WAYNESBORO, PENN'A., THURSDAY, JAN. 3, 1901.

NUMBER 27.

GOOD CHIEF DIED THERE

REUNION OF DESCENDANTS OF AGED MRS. CROUSE.

Trinity Reformed Church, a Tuffy-Puffing at Leland Hotel and Afterward Enjoys Mrs. Barnett's Hospitality.

Mrs. Lucy Anna Crouse, No. 209 East Main street, celebrated her 82d birthday, Thursday, and in honor of the occasion a family reunion was held in the afternoon. Her children and a number of other relatives from a distance were present and a very enjoyable time was had. A bounteous dinner was a feature of the event.

The guests of Mrs. Crouse on this happy occasion were Rev. F. F. Bahner, D. D., and Mrs. Bahner, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Sotter, Mr. and Mrs. Josiah Crouse, Coatesville, Pa.; Jacob M. Crouse, Almont, Iowa; Mr. and Mrs. Nathaniel Crouse, Mr. and Mrs. Israel Hess, Mr. and Mrs. John Fortman, Mr. and Mrs. David McGinley, Mrs. Amanda Dickel, Mrs. Amanda Harbaugh, Mrs. Lillian Fortman, Miss Lucy Fortman, Mrs. John and Earl Fortman, Mrs. Lilly Reed and son Allen, Mrs. Susan Shaffer, Jacob Crouse and Jacob Dickel, Waynesboro; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Fortman, Pittsburg; Mrs. Annie Hoppel, Miss Florence Thiel and Master John Hoppel, Baltimore, and Miss Mary Albright, Frederick.

Notwithstanding her advanced age Mrs. Crouse enjoys excellent health and bids fair to celebrate many more birthdays.

The members of Trinity Reformed choir were delightfully entertained by Mrs. Daniel Barnett at the Leland hotel Thursday evening. They assembled there early in the evening to puff tuff and after a jolly time as candy-makers all were invited to the dining room where Mrs. Barnett had prepared a delightful lunch as a surprise. Ice cream, cake, confections, nuts, coffee, etc., were served. The dining room was decorated with laurel, spruce and potted plants. After the lunch Miss Mary Potter and Charles Potter rendered a pleasing musical program in the parlors of the hotel.

Those present were: Mrs. F. F. Bahner, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Dammann, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Zumbro, Misses Alice Coon, Bertha Fortman, Lella Fisher, Mary Potter, Flo. M. Richardson, Nettie Mathias, Maggie Little, Mary Bender, Mary Frantz, Bessie Bahner and Clara Bahner, Dr. Walter S. Bahner, Charles Potter, Master Barnett Zumbro, Mrs. Barnett, Misses Emma and Nellie Barnett and Master Fred. Barnett.

Family Reunions On Christmas Day.

A pleasant family reunion was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Harbaugh, Sabillasville, Christmas day. A toothsome dinner, with turkey and chicken as the chief features, was prepared. Music and games furnished the social entertainment. Those present, in addition to the host and hostess, were Mr. and Mrs. C. Fleet Harbaugh, Sabillasville; Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Harbaugh and family, Cascade; Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Gordon, Miss Ruth Funkhauser, Big Pool; Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Harbaugh and family, Miss Etta Harbaugh, Waynesboro; Miss Lella M. Harbaugh, Catonsville; Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Harbaugh, Camden, N. J.

Mr. and Mrs. George Carbaugh served a bounteous Christmas dinner at their home, West Main street. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Scott Hershey; Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Leeson; Dr. and Mrs. Koons and family; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Fisher and family; Mr. and Mrs. Emanuel Berger and son, Mr. and Mrs. Burtus Lowery.

Books Donated to Reading Room.

W. T. Omwake, Esq., has presented to the Public Reading Room association the following handsomely bound books: Macaulay's History of England, 1 vol.; Our Own Times, McCarthy; 2 vols.; Swift's Works, 6 vols.; Dickens' Works, 6 vols.; Irving's Works, 3 vols.; "Our Great Men," 704 pages, handsomely illustrated. The managers appreciate this substantial interest on the part of the generous public and wish to gratefully acknowledge the receipt of the books.

There's a story of a farmer and his son driving a load to market. Of the team the team they were driving one was a steady reliable old gray mare the other a fractious, bulky black horse. On the way the wagon was stalled and the black horse balked and refused to pull. "What'll we do father?" said the younger man. "Well," said the father, "I guess we'll have to lay the load on the old gray." That homely complaint to women. "The gray mare's the better horse" suggests how often when there's an extra strain to be born it is laid on the on the woman's back. How often she breaks down at last under the added weight of "last straw." Women who are dragging along wearily through life can gain real strength by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It puts back in concentrated form the strength making material which working women use up more rapidly than it can be restored by nature in the ordinary processes of nourishment and rest. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are universal favorites with women because they are easy to take and thoroughly effective in curing the consequences of constipation.

BACK TO OLD SCHOOL DESK.

G. M. SPANGLER ELECTED TO SUCCEED TEACHER B. C. KADEL.

Was Formerly Engaged in Teaching in Waynesboro—Will Serve Only Six Months and Continue His Study.

At the special meeting of the Waynesboro school board Thursday evening, G. M. Spangler, Waynesboro, was elected to fill the vacancy in the teaching force in the A grammar school caused by the resignation of Prof. B. C. Kadel.

Prof. Spangler was chosen for the unexpired term of Prof. Kadel and will teach only until the closing of school in the summer. He will not, it is said, be an applicant for re-election in September.

Prof. Spangler has not long been out of the public schools as a teacher. He was formerly first assistant in the high school and two years ago was principal of the North street building. He has been engaged in business since he relinquished teaching. He is well equipped for the work before him in the grammar school and will prove a worthy successor to Prof. Kadel.

Prof. Spangler will not retire from business but will place his clerk in active charge of it, and will devote his entire time to school work.

There were five applicants for the vacant place in the school faculty to which Prof. Spangler was chosen. Two were from Waynesboro, one from Harrisburg, one from Orrstown and one from Leitersburg.

Wedding Reception.

Contributed to ZEPHYRUS. A large number of people assembled at the residence of J. P. Funk, No. 425 West Main street on Saturday, Dec. 22, to tender a reception to Mrs. Funk's brother and bride, Frank Miller and wife, who were married at the home of the bride, near Millbrook, Dec. 13. About 30 or more friends from town and country met to pay their respects to the bride and groom, and also to partake of the bountiful turkey dinner provided for the occasion. Among those present were: Frank Miller and wife, A. B. Good and wife, Millbrook; E. Benedict and Miss M. Good, near Mont Alto; Wilton McCleary and wife, Culbertson, Benj. Miller, Park Hill, D. R. Miller and wife, Marsh; Mrs. Alice Funk and niece, Park Hill; M. E. Sollenberger and wife, Waynesboro; the Misses Good, near Waynesboro; Misses Dora and Zella Funk, C. H. Stickell, Mrs. George Potter and daughter and Miss Gertrude Gordon, Waynesboro.

Won Turkey By Good Shooting.

In the prize contest at the shooting gallery, which closed with Christmas evening, the rocking chair was won by James Fortman. The best score for the pair of fine shoes was made by Charles Hohlman.

On Christmas day seven turkeys were shot off at the rifle range north of town and of this number G. Ed. Crall drew five, the other two being won by Wesley Kauffman, of Quincy. In the evening Mr. Crall was one of a number of our crack shots in the contest at the shooting gallery, winning two of the three turkeys put up with a score of ninety-nine out of a possible hundred.

Reunion Dance Largely Attended.

The "Reunion Dance" in the Wayne building dancing academy, Wednesday evening, was one of the most pleasant functions of the season. The number of dances was large and the music was bright and well-executed. The college students home for the holidays were the especial guests of the evening. Others present from out of town, were Misses Miriam Welsh, Kinover; Jessie Brandt, Chambersburg; and Mabel Frantz, Ringgold; and Dr. Chas. O. Miller, Saxton; Roy Rinehart, Norfolk, and Roy Hoover, Carriage.

It has been demonstrated repeatedly in every state in the Union and in many foreign countries that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is a certain preventive and cure for croup. It has become the universal remedy for that disease. M. V. Fisher of Liberty, Va., only repeats what has been said around the globe when he writes: "I have used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in my family for several years and always with perfect success. We believe it is not only the best cough remedy, but that it is a sure cure for croup. It has saved the lives of our children a number of times." This remedy is for sale by Portman & Miller.

A Minister's Busy Christmas. Christmas was a busy day for Rev. D. R. Becker, of New Franklin. In the morning he received the donations of members of the White church, Marion, who went to the parsonage laden with good things for Rev. Becker and his wife. At noon he officiated at the wedding of J. Calvin Diehl and Miss Olive P. Bowers. At the conclusion of the wedding dinner the minister baptized a brother and niece of the bride and in the afternoon performed a third baptism on an infant child of a Chambersburg business man.

UNDRESSED ON ROADSIDE.

Colored Man Selected His Bed on The Turf And Lost Head And Footwear.

There is a colored man living with a well-to-do dairyman near Waynesboro who is very firm in his determination to make a New Year resolution to abstain from all intoxicating drinks and to live up to that resolution. And this is the reason therefor.

On Christmas he made a surreptitious trip to Waynesboro. While here he imbibed too much and when he started for home he was very weary. A mile, or maybe two miles, or maybe further (the darkey does not know) out of town he was overcome by his weariness and sat down by the roadside. There he removed his hat and shoes and stockings and lay over on his back and went to sleep. When he awoke he was chilled through and numb and dumb and he started on a run, land, ng finally in his own room.

But he had forgotten his shoes and stockings and hat and he could not remember where. His feet were cut by the stones and frozen by the cold and he was in such a state as very easily leads to such good resolutions as he has passed. As to his clothing which he deposited along the road, he knows nothing. A search next day could not find them and he was compelled to work for a day minus a portion of them as a reminder to him of his journey from the straight path.

News From Busy Local Shops.

The Emmert Manfg. Co. will ship to Germany in a few days, half a dozen Emmert vases. Each will go to a different place. The company will soon be ready to begin the manufacture of vases in its own shops and the output and sales are expected to be large.

NIGHT WATCHMAN LOHMAN.

Beginning With January 1 He Will Keep Guard over Portions of Main Street.

Constable John W. Lohman, who is not at present engaged in the work in Chambersburg which occupied him for a time, will, on January 1, take up the duties of night watchman. He will patrol the principal part of Main street from 11 p. m. to 5 a. m. and look after the interests of property-holders and tenants during that time.

Mr. Lohman has been engaged by a number of merchants and others to guard their stores and residences, for which services they will pay him a small sum. There are not sufficient patrons to give him adequate remuneration but he hopes to secure more. The value of Mr. Lohman's services will be greater than may at first appear. He will protect property against fire and burglars and will be constantly on the streets, between the hours mentioned, to extend help to whoever may need assistance. The banks and merchants will find him almost invaluable as a watchman and he should have their liberal support.

Miss "Betsy" Rowe's Will Probated.

The will of Miss Elizabeth Rowe, late of Waynesboro, has been probated with John F. Johnston as executor. Her brother Michael is given $1. The residue is divided into five shares, one share each to her sisters Nancy Beckner, Christiana Murphy, Catharine French to Susan Hahn one tenth, Charlotte Kaufman ditto, her brother Jacob one-fifth but a codicil revokes the latter bequest and gives $1 each to his widow Hannah, daughter Elizabeth, sons John and Morris and the residue to Josiah Beckner with the deceased mother's share.

CHAT ABOUT YOUR FRIENDS.

WHEREABOUTS OF THOSE WHO HAVE AN INTEREST IN.

Those Who Daily Come And Go And Interact—Facts Concerning Many Who Are Well Known Here.

Mrs. Laura Carroll, this place, is the guest of Mrs. Annie E. Norris, Chambersburg.

Melvin Garver, wholesale confectioner, Hagerstown, was a visitor to Waynesboro, Thursday. He is a brother-in-law of "Duke" Shaller, of Shaller's barber shop.

A correspondent of the Greencastle Echo-Pilot, in recalling the names of some of the famous Shoo-Fly minstrels of 1870 in Greencastle, has this to say of a Waynesboro resident: "Moss S. Kunkel, the quiet, the clever interlocutor, whom the girls welcomed as the personification of the business man's foot-light ideal, is now retired from the cares of business in Waynesboro. Moss in the cast of 'Uncle Jeff' took the part of a girl. A 'Hostetter Hall' he who can act is so rare in getting on the pedestal where the twentieth century girl bows down before her stage favorites."

Miss Ida M. Clopper, Waynesboro, was one of the invited guests at the Corderman-Lefever wedding in Cearfoss, Md., Wednesday evening.

R. G. Halt, a student in Mercersburg college, is spending a few days with George T. Snider.

Plumber Adams' Finger Almost Cut Off on Water Pipe Line.

Edw. M. Adams, of the firm of Adams & Cline, plumbers, sustained a very painful injury to the third finger of his left hand, yesterday afternoon, while laying pipe on the new line of the Waynesboro water company. He was helping to move a heavy pipe in the ditch when it turned and his finger was caught between the pipe and a stone. The first joint of the finger was crushed and the nail torn almost loose. Mr. Adams suffered intense pain but dressed the wound with liniment obtained from a farmer and continued to superintend the work until evening when he came to town. A surgeon gave the injury attention and the nail will be saved.

Large Orders For Decarbonated Lime Company.

The Decarbonated Lime and Stone Co. has received an order for 1000 cubic yards of broken stone to be used in ballasting the new short line of the Washington & Franklin railroad. It is probable that the order will be increased to 3000 cubic yards during the next few days.

The company has also received an order for two carloads of crushed stone to be used on the streets of Westminister.

HE USED FRICK CO'S. MONEY.

INDIANAPOLIS AGENT SHORT IN HIS ACCOUNTS.

Tried To Recover His Losses By Running a Bowling Alley—President Rinehart Investigating.

A dispatch from Indianapolis, Ind., says:

"Thomas W. Jay, Indiana State agent of Frick Manufacturing company, Waynesboro, Pa., was placed under arrest, Christmas evening, on the charge of embezzling $12,000 from the company."

"Mr. Jay says that he had a great deal of sickness in his family some time over a year ago, and that he used $100 of the company's money to meet the extra expense thus entailed. To make this up he then took more money which he invested in a bowling alley. This proving a failure, he again invested company moneys in the city club. This he says is paying and would have enabled him to refund in full, had he not been arrested."

General Superintendent Ezra Frick said to RECORD representative Thursday, with reference to the above dispatch:

"The news is substantially correct. Mr. Jay is short in his accounts but we do not anticipate the amount will be as large as that mentioned. President S. B. Rinehart is now in Indianapolis endeavoring to ascertain just how little or how big the defalcation is. We think Jay's shortage has all occurred during this year. Jay was a good salesman. He frequently came east to our general offices here. He is an Indiana man."

POLITICS NEAR HOME.

The topic of most absorbing interest in Pennsylvania now is the election of a United States senator. The friends of Col. M. S. Quay claim that he will be elected without a doubt. The insurgents assert that he cannot be elected. There is a big difference between the two statements and the people are in doubt which to accept.

One thing is true. Col. M. S. Quay must be elected by Republicans or he must be defeated by Republicans. The Democrats will stand aloof from the factional quarrel and will not vote for Quay for any other Republican.

So that if Quay is elected he will have only Republicans to thank and if he is defeated he must visit the blame for that result upon members of his own party.

In this connection the views of the leading newspapers of the two factions of the party are interesting. The Philadelphia Inquirer, the strongest newspaper supporter of Quay, today says that "over their own signatures a clear majority of the entire legislature—all Republicans—have, within a short period, solemnly pledged themselves to go into the senatorial caucus and to vote for Quay, not only there but on the floor of their respective legislative chambers. The pledge have been made. The list is more than sufficient not only to nominate by a clear majority, but to elect. There is no question of doubt concerning that statement."

The North American, owned by Thomas Wanamaker, and one of the leaders of the insurgent papers, makes this statement:

"Quay's defeat for United States senator is assured by a clear majority of legislators pledged against him. Anti-machine forces will control the House and elect the speaker. If Quay were to secure all the doubtful senators the senate would be a tie. The machine cannot secure a majority."

Candidates for whom the insurgents may cast their ballots include Congressman Connell, Scranton, Henry W. Oliver, Pittsburg; Congressman Galusha A. Grow, Susquehanna. Postmaster General Charles Emory Smith.

James B. Fisher, editor of the West Chester Village Record, who spent Christmas day here is confident of the re-election of Col. M. S. Quay as United States senator. "He will certainly be chosen as Senator Penrose's associate and go back to the upper house of congress as his own successor. There is much boasting by the insurgents as to their ability to defeat Colonel Quay but I know positively that they will not back their claims with money." Mr. Fisher will attend the opening of the legislative session in Harrisburg next week.

One of the newest rumors in political circles is that ex-County Commissioner J. R. Small, Mont Alto, will again be an aspirant for election to his former office on the Democratic ticket, presuming, of course, that he will have no trouble in securing a place on the ticket.

WEDDING BELLS.

STOVER—HOUSER.

In Zion's Reformed church, Chambersburg, Thursday evening, Lieutenant Weller E. Stover, tactical officer and director of athletics of Michigan military academy, Orchard Lake, Mich., and Miss Mary J., daughter of ex-Postmaster and Mrs. Wilson R. Houser, Chambersburg, were united in marriage.

The father of the groom, Rev. J. D. Stover, Logansville, York county, performed the ceremony, assisted by the pastor of the bride, Rev. Dr. W. C. Schaeffer.

The maid of honor was Miss Elizabeth Patterson, Fulton county, a member of the faculty of the Soldiers' Industrial school at Scotland. The best man was Lieutenant C. Sherman Smith, of Company C, Eighth Pennsylvania infantry, Chambersburg. The bridesmaids were the aunt of the bride, Miss Pauline Burkhardt, and Miss Bert Kohl, of Lancaster. The ushers were Lieutenant John G. Westling, of Company C; Dr. John J. Eckel, Arthur G. Houser, the bride's brother, and Frank Summers.

Mr. and Mrs. Stover, after a wedding tour, will live in Michigan. Lieutenant Stover was first lieutenant of Company C, when it went into the late war, and became adjutant of the regiment. He resigned a position on the faculty of the Scotland school after several years' service there to take the place he now holds in Orchard Lake.

The bride is one of Chambersburg's most beautiful young women. She was, for four years, assistant to her father, who is well-known here and a frequent visitor to town, in the Chambersburg postoffice. Among the Waynesboro guests at the wedding was Earl Dubble, son of Postmaster Dubble.

STOUTER—MARTIN.

Edward D. Stouter, this place, and Miss Mabel Edith Martin, Greencastle, were married at 8:30 Thursday evening by Rev. T. O. Keister, at the parsonage of the Lutheran church, Greencastle. The wedding was a quiet one, the only persons in attendance being Miss Viola Goetz, as maid of honor, and Arthur W. Dowell, as crossman. Later in the evening Mr. and Mrs. Stouter were driven to their new home on East Main street, Waynesboro, which had been previously furnished by the groom.

The bride is the daughter of William Martin, Greencastle, and is a woman of rare accomplishments. The groom is a son of Jacob Stouter, East Main street. He holds a position of responsibility with Frick company and enjoys a wide friendship among our young people.

FAUST—LESHER.

On Christmas evening, William A. Faust, junior member of the firm of C. A. Faust & Son, who operate the Chambersburg roller mill, and Miss Viola Leshner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Josiah Leshner, Upton, were united in marriage in the Lutheran church of Upton. Rev. T. O. Keister, Greencastle, performed the ceremony. Four of the eight young girls of the bride's Sunday school class were bridesmaids and the remaining four were ushers. Mr. and Mrs. Faust will reside in Chambersburg.
